

COVID19's Impacts on World

PIYUSH CHAUDHARI¹, HARSH VARDHAN MAKORIA²

^{1,2} AIMS Institute of Management Studies.

I. INTRODUCTION

It has been four months since the first Corona patient had spotted in China. This pandemic has hit world so hard that world is in great depression. Lockdowns are imposing by government to ensure the public safety and that's resulting into moving a step into the well of unstable economies.

II. ELABORATIVE APPROACH

- Why Covid19 is a subject of a greater worry?
- 1. Speed of Growth: Its speed of growth is astonishing. Corona virus took only 48 days to infect its first one thousand people and that's the topmost speed of any pandemic in the history of the world.
- 2. Great Depression after 1929: as a result of this pandemic, world is facing the great Depression.
- 3. Uncertain: symptoms of this Covid19 may vary from a person to person and it is so uncertain.
- 4. Forces of Demand and Supply: In a particular situation of Recession, It either affects the forces of demand or the forces of supply but in this pandemic, It is affecting both the demands and supplies.

III. IMPACT

1. Social Impacts: This grave pandemic would affect people's mindset in future and the way it is spreading; Its very absurd for people to believe in social gatherings which were happening before.
2. Geopolitical Impacts: USA's interference in the world would be suppressed. European Countries which were playing a role of protector would be a myth again. China's province is likely to increase. Russia's province in the Asia is also likely to increase.
3. Technological Impacts: Speed of internet has reduced in this pandemic as more and more people have been using it. The Virtual Meetings have been conducted everywhere. Students tend to study on the web. World wouldn't be the same as it was before.

4. Impacts on Nature: Air quality of the world has been good since all the people are in lockdown state. Nature is healing itself very fast. Wild Animals are being seen in the areas where humans once crowded. Pollution rate has gone down.
5. Economic Impacts: Because of this gravely contagious virus, Countries had imposed lockdowns on everything which is responsible for unemployment. Businesses have winded up. It is the great recession after 1929.

CONCLUSION

Covid19 has left World astonishing by the rate of its growth and how it got spread in such a less time. Covid19 has come up with both the advantages and disadvantages. It pulled businesses and industries down and left people anxious about their lives and livelihoods.

At the other hand, Because of this pandemic, Mother Nature is healing. Air quality got better. Animals are living freely.

REFERENCES

- [1] Webinar by Dr. Narendra Jadhav

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I would like to show my gratitude and thank to Prof. PRATHAMESH S NADKARNI sir for motivating, guiding and mentoring me for writing this research paper, he is a warm hearted and a fun-loving person with concrete values and ethics. Sir you have been our inspiration. Thank you very much Sir!